

Starpharma CEO joins Melbourne Business School board of directors

Starpharma's CEO Dr Jackie Fairley has been appointed to the board of directors of the Melbourne Business School (MBS). Dr Fairley joins a number of highly respected community and business leaders on the board, including Peter Barnes, Chairman of Ansell, Gail Kelly CEO of Westpac, and Graeme Liebelt, CEO of Orica. The Melbourne Business School is Australia's leading business school and was recently ranked by The Economist as 17th globally and number one in Asia. Dr Fairley is a past graduate of the School's MBA program and was a recipient of the prestigious Clemenger Medal in her final year. Dr Fairley said it was an honour to be appointed to the MBS board.
